conditions in the participation form each participant is required to fill, before submitting the film. In case of violation of the copyright of others from the movies that have been submitted and projected in the festival, any liability against the festival and the organizers is considered wrongful and unjust, and the liability falls on to the creators of the movie and so as does the payment of any additional costs of damage of the third party. The Organisers have the right to check the movies before projecting them to determine if any of the movies contain scenes of low morality, so as to prevent projection in the cinematic screen.

9. Multiple entries will be accepted.

10. Participation in the festival is strictly personal and you may not participate on behalf of others.

11. Before the end of the festival, a special committee will select the best among the films presented in their own subjective discretion and their decisions will not be subject to any form of appeal and displeasement.

12. The implementation of the Festival requires the creation of personal data files which will include the name, birth date, phone number and email addresses of participants. For this reason participation in the festival involves the provision of explicit and unconditional consent of any Participant in order to enable The Argo Film Festival organising committee to enter his/her name and other requested information in a file that will be created by the provisions of Law 2472/1997, as amended, Law 2774/1999 and the decisions and directives of the Data Protection Authority Personal Data. The purpose of the maintenance of this file is vital for the implementation of the competition and especially the identification of participants (confirm their identities), and the identification of the festival's winners. In addition, any future contact will be made with the participants in the competition for advertising and promotional activities, for those of participants who have given its consent. In the latter case the data of the participants will be maintained for a period of one year. In accordance with the provisions of Law 2472/1997, each participant has the right to request in writing by the Argo Film Festival the reformulation or deletion of his or her personal data from the festival's data file. In regards to the maintenance and processing of personal data of participants, Argo Film Festival will take any necessary notification to the Data Protection Authority.

13. The Argo Film Festival reserves the right to disclose the names and publish/project the winning films in the media and the festival's site and make use of it for advertising purposes relating to the Festival and its event, without paying any fees.

14. The Argo Film Festival reserves the right to modify, revoke, extend or shorten the duration of the festival, and to alter the terms and dates of participation and / or to cancel the festival at its discretion and without any underlying claim of participants for these reasons, nor against the Argo Film Festival, the festival will announce any such changes in its website and / or any appropriate means at reasonable discretion.

15. ATTENTION, the participant along with the two DVD copies of the movie and other requested materials must also sent in this document signed by the sender.

16. Participation in the competition implies full and unreserved acceptance of the detailed conditions of participation.

17. Any dispute which may arise in connection with the Festival will be resolved exclusively by the Courts of Volos and in accordance with Greek law and the present analytical conditions.
